Ad Text I immigrated to the states when I was 5 along with my mother and two older siblings. During elementary, middle school and high school, I fought every obstacle that was thrown my way. When I got to high school I began to take AP classes which led me to create a goal to continue onto higher education. Formal education allowed me to begin a career but most importantly it allowed me to figure out a special side of me. I am so blessed and humbled to be first-generation, undocumented, brown, and a product of the hard work of a single mother.
